

Dear Robert Adie,

I am writing to express my interest in joining the UIAA Athlete Commission as a member.

As an engineer, I am experienced at solving complex problems, often requiring critical thinking, precision, and analytical skills. These skills, along with my proficiency in English, allow me to approach challenges methodically and communicate effectively. I have been actively involved in the sport of competition ice climbing for several years and also gained valuable insights into the related disciplines like alpinism and sport climbing. This experience has given me a well rounded perspective on the needs of athletes in these fields. In addition to my competitive background, I regularly organize both national and international events as part of the Slovenian Alpine Commission. These experiences have sharpened my skills, allowing me to work efficiently with diverse groups of people. My strongest asset is my motivation. Whether in my professional life, athletic pursuits, or organizational work, I am deeply committed to contributing my best efforts. It would be a pleasure to bring this drive to the UIAA athlete commission improving development and support for competition ice climbers worldwide. While I recognize that I can be impulsive at times, I am continually working to channel this trait into positive energy. I would be honored to have the opportunity to contribute to the goals of the UIAA. Thank you for considering my application.

I am attaching my photo below, please let me know if it meets the standard or does it have to be formal.

Sincerely,

—Gregor Šegel
